TC Energy purchases land in Wasaga Beach

The Town of Wasaga Beach is advising the community that TC Energy has recently purchased property in the west end, along the shore of Nottawasaga Bay.

TC Energy is a publicly listed company in the initial stages of an alternative energy project.

The site is off Shore Lane, just east of Constance Boulevard.

The land in Wasaga Beach is to accommodate transmission cables from the company's proposed pumped energy storage facility, which if approved would be at the Department of National Defence's Fourth Canadian Division Training Centre, near Meaford.

The purpose of this update is to provide the community an overview of the project.

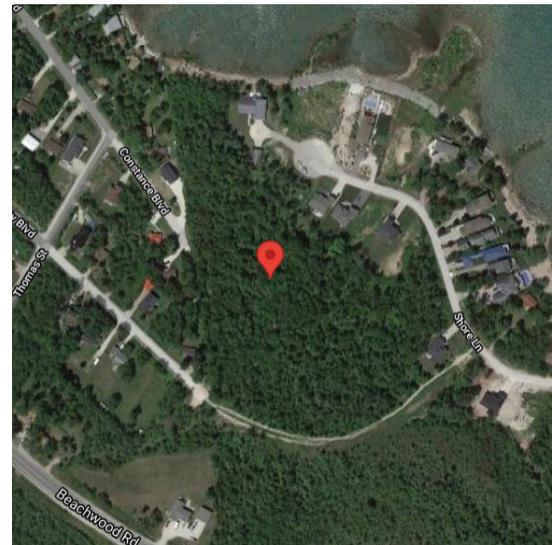

The town received a written project update from the company on April 12, 2021, confirming the recent purchase of property in Wasaga Beach. The company said that a number of approvals and extensive public consultation would be required before the project can go ahead. The company proposes that operation of the pumped energy storage facility and related infrastructure start in 2028.

TC Energy describes pumped hydro storage as "pumping water from a low-lying reservoir during periods of low demand for electricity, typically at night, to a higher-elevation reservoir. When electricity demand is greater (and therefore electricity is more expensive), operators release water back to the lower reservoir through turbines that generate electricity (similar to hydropower from dams)."

Residents can learn more about the proposal at www.tcenergy.com/operations/power/pumped-storage-project/

From the company's main project site in the Meaford area, one of the options TC Energy is exploring is to move the electricity to the main grid through lakebed cables in Nottawasaga Bay to underground cables at the Wasaga Beach site and then to the Hydro One transformer station in Stayner. The company has told the town that preliminary feasibility work is underway. Council received an information report about the project just over a year ago on March 12, 2020, during its regular Coordinated Committee meeting. The report provided an overview of the project. At the time, the report noted Wasaga Beach would be a potential location for transmission routing.

Company officials tell the town that should the project move to the environmental assessment phase, TC Energy will begin a broader engagement program in the municipalities affected by the proposed transmission route.

Residents with questions about the project can contact the company at 1-844-551-0055 or by e-mail at energy\_storage@tcenergy.com. TC Energy encourages community members that are interested in the project to sign up for their project mailing list by visiting the website. Approvals rest with the province and its agencies, as well as the Government of Canada.

"The town will continue to monitor this proposal and will continue its dialogue with TC Energy. We encourage interested residents to stay informed by monitoring the company's website," Mayor Nina Bifulchi said.

Beach Drive will remain closed

At its April 27 meeting, council confirmed the staff decision to extend the closure of Beach Drive for the 2021 season.

Water levels are still high enough that they present a risk of wave action breaching the sand covered portion of Beach Drive during major storm events.

If the road were open, and sand was deposited on the road, it would require costly clean up.

In 2019, the town spent almost $60,000 dealing with four clean ups due to the amount of sand on the road.

Another factor in keeping the road closed is an environmental assessment the town did of the area.

The town conducted the EA as part of its work to redevelop town-owned land at the beachfront.

The environmental assessment of the area included extensive public consultation and recommended closing the road to vehicles and repurposing the space for a number of public uses.

See the March 25 news release on our website, which speaks to this matter in greater detail.

Planning amendments get the OK for beachfront and downtown

Council, at the April 27 meeting, approved an Official Plan amendment for the beachfront, plus a related Zoning Bylaw amendment, and an amendment to the Downtown Community Improvement Plan.

The amendments serve the following purposes:

- Amend the planning policy framework to introduce flexibility in the Official Plan policy;
- Update policies for road network improvements, based on the environmental assessment for Main Street and Beach Areas 1 and 2;
- Rezone Beach 1 lands, between Playland Parking Lot and Third Street, to B1H zone, ensuring consistent zoning for all lands in the Beach 1 redevelopment area;

- Amend Community Improvement Plan mapping to describe Beach Area 1 lands, between Playland Parking Lot and Third Street, as a priority investment area.

The implementation of the Downtown Development Master Plan continues.

Building activity report shows another active month

The Building Department Activity Summary for March shows the department issued 56 permits for construction valued at $7.9-million.

The total number of building permits issued for homes was 15 with an estimated construction value of $6.2-million.
